

TANGIBLE KINGDOM: INVITING IN

This week let one thought bless and unsettle you. People are watching. It is both a privilege and a responsibility to understand that your children, your spouse, neighbors, co-workers, Starbuck Baristas and friends you have been hanging out with for years -- your life is a book about people who are connected to God.

First Step

Luke 19: 1-10 (This week's sermon text)

Luke 18: 18-30

Step In

What is your favorite reality show? Why do you think reality shows are so popular?

What one thing really stuck with you from this week's sermon?

Step Up

Sometimes not wanting to "stand out in the crowd" keeps us from acting in accordance with the way we really think and believe. We may be too embarrassed to speak up, we might be afraid of what others will think of us.

How can we work past these obstacles to get closer to God?

How does God reach through "the crowd" to get closer to us?

Step Out

Think of a time when someone went out of their way to show you love even though you didn't deserve it. How did you respond?

How was God working in the other person? in you?

Whom do you find it difficult to love because of their actions towards you?
