It's hard to think that Jesus needed to grow up. That he wasn't born that way. That he was a normal child. Yet the scripture portrays him exactly that way. In just that same way we need to make the decision to grow up. Growing up is not just a chronological journey it is also a maturation process. There are turning points.

I

What opportunities am I taking advantage of to help me become a life-long learner in my knowledge about who God is and what God is like?

WE

What are some ways we can "grow" our relationships with others? What opportunities or tools are available to help us?

THEY

How does building a house for Habitat for Humanity, filling backpacks, or feeding the homeless help us become more "mature" in our Christian faith?
